It's coming down, it's coming down, it's coming down
These clouds could never hope to save us
From such a juggernaut of weight
We all dance the jingo cabaret

It's coming down, it's coming down
There're shadows forming on the pavement
We face a watershed of hate
Just miles apart but worlds away
Just miles apart but worlds away

The sky is falling and no one will lift their eyes to see
The sky is falling and no one will care as long as it lands overseas

It's coming down, it's coming down, it's coming down
This roof could never hope to save me
My family from certain death
If we could leave we would have left

It's coming down, it's coming down
My little girl's just a baby
And I'm scared that she won't make her teens
My fear just fuels the hate machine
My fear just fuels the hate machine

The sky is falling and no one will lift their eyes to see
lands overseas
The sky is falling and no one cares as long as it lands
overseas

I wanna be strong enough to not let my fear decide my fate
Surrounded by jingoists, I don't want any part of this I wanna be strong enough to not let my terror turn to hate
Surrounded by jingoists, I don't want any part of this,
no

I wanna be strong enough to not let my fear decide my
fate

I wanna be strong enough to not let my terror turn to
hate
Surrounded by jingoists, I don't want any part of this

The sky is falling and no one will lift their eyes to see
The sky is falling and no one cares as long as it lands
overseas
