So you just stepped out of the front of my house and I'll never see you again.
I closed my eyes for a second and when they opened you weren't there.
And the door shut shut
I was vacuum packed, shrink-wrapped out of air And the spine collapsed and the eyes rolled back to stare at my starving brain,

And fully clothed, I float away
(I'll float away)
Down the Forth, into the sea
I think I'll save suicide for another day.

And I picture this corpse on the M8 hearse and I half run away to sleep On a rolled up coat against the window with the strobe of the sun and the life I've led am I ready to leap is there peace beneath the roar of the Forth road bridge?
On the Northern side is a Fife of mine and a boat in the port for me,

And fully clothed, I float away
(I'll float away)
Down the Forth, into the sea
I'll steer myself through drunken waves as manic gulls scream it's okay take your life give it a shake gather up all your loose change

I think I'll save suicide for another year.
