

Through The Eyes Of The Dead "To Wage A War"

I embark the path into this wretched death
Who will save us when there is no one left?
As the end draws near I fear what may become eternal damnation

Seek your final salvation
Dead and lifeless amongst yourselves
Corruption runs through your cold veins
We shall prevail as our own

Scavengers of the human race, our mouths drip with disease
To play the roles of the powers that be
Give me the strength to rise above them all
I will conquer this earth

Seek your final salvation
Dead and lifeless amongst yourselves
Corruption runs through your cold veins
We shall prevail as our own

To stand the test of time
Shatter the hourglass
To become one with desolation and the poison air we breathe
I call upon the scorching rain of fire
Bring forth the darkness
These strings of wrath control our every move
Break away from this hell

Seek your final salvation
Dead and lifeless amongst yourselves
Corruption runs through your cold veins
We shall prevail as our own

To stand the test of time
Shatter the hourglass
To become one with desolation and the poison air we
breathe
To stand the test of time
We shall prevail as our own
