Teach me how to sacrifice,
I'm told that I don't know a thing But maybe with some time alone we'll both learn what it means I feel as though I owe you more than just these words of gratitude you read So before it ends, my friend,
I'll teach you how to (bleed)

Show me where to tread to get ahead,
I fear that I don't know the way Cause this honesty and sincerity has brought me only pain Show me how to make them trust the lies to give me what I want for free You've got it all, now there's just one thing, just one thing

Your soul, I'd say that it's been sold
But was it ever there?
Cold, It must be cold so far below
But keep digging, you're almost there

So long, goodbye, I can't say I wish you well

But best of luck to you in Hell Don't speak, there is no need to drag this through the thorns and knives Cause now it's time we said goodbye

I've waited for so long in this prison for so long Served my time and I managed to survive Lied to for so long, beholden for so long
...But now it's over

So long, goodbye, I can't say I wish you well
But best of luck to you in Hell
Don't speak, there is no need to drag this
through the thorns and knives
You know it's time we said goodbye

Goodbye

So long, goodbye, I can't say I wish you well
But best of luck to you in Hell
You don't get it, it's so pathetic, but one thing you can't deny Is that it's time we said goodbye

Goodbye
