Lie down, don't move
Quiet, you
Sick with amazement
I'm soaking and broke
Here's a big fat aspirin
Maybe you'll choke
That's not funny
Get me into your club
Get me off your hook
I want to get excited
I want to be your slave
Ignorance is happiness unless you get paid

And the times never change
I'm running out of days
And we can always run away
And you can always run away with me
And we can always run away
And you can always run away with me
Run away with me
Run away

I don't like you anymore than you know
But I still like you too much
This city's insane
These people are crazy
You can buy me breakfast
And then find me a coat
Back in that apartment I saw too many ghosts to go home
This bread is old
My coffee's cold
We live on toast and coffee
We live on bread and water
We live on Coke and pretzels
We live on bread and water

Times never change
I'm running out of days
And we can always run away
And you can always run away with me

And we can always run away
And you can always run away with me
Run away with me
Run away

I don't like you anymore than you know
But I still like you too much
