Here comes the flood

Can you feel the love

Washing over you

Like a tidal wave inside of you

Here comes the night

Can you see the light

Shining like the sun

You wanna hide but it's got you on the run

Every word you say

Is taking your breath away

Cry, the demons that you hide

Screaming through the night

They won't forget you

Coming down, coming down, coming down, coming
down

Need, the circus you gotta feed

The wound that never heals

It don't let go

down

She's here again

Your only friend

Watching over you

She never takes her eyes away from you

She's wide awake

As she lies in wait

Your chosen bride

A mother, a lover, a kick inside

Every single day

Is taken your breath away

Cry, the demons that you hide

Screaming through the night

They won't forget you

Coming down, coming down, coming down, coming
down

Need, the circus you gotta feed

The wound that never heals

It don't let go

Coming down, coming down, coming down, coming
down

It's been so long, since I've come undone

Slippin' in to my second skin, to my second skin

Cry, the demons the hide

Screaming through the night

No, they won't forget you

Coming down, coming down, coming down, coming
down

Need, the circus you gotta feed

The wound that never heals

It don't let go

down
