I have learned of what you did
It took out every smile
I fall asleep in your memory
And pictures of our child
And what if I threw it all away
And what if I threw myself to you
Would it be the same?
(I promise, I'll dream about you)
I close my eyes
To stop myself from falling
To stop myself from you
To stop myself from all the pain that you put me through
To stop myself from falling
To stop myself from you
To stop myself from falling
I promise [x4]
To stop myself from falling
To stop myself from you
To stop myself from all the pain that you put me
through
To stop myself from falling
To stop myself from you
To stop myself from falling
I promise [x4]
I have learned of what you did
It took out every smile
I fall asleep in your memory
And pictures of our child
And what if I threw it all away
And what if I threw myself to you
It took out every smile
I fall asleep in your memory
And pictures of our child
And what if I threw it all away
And what if I threw myself to you
I promise
