"Loving Strangers"

I've got a hole in my pocket where all the money has gone and I've got a whole lot of work to do with your heart cause it's so busy, mine's not Loving strangers, loving strangers, loving strangers, oh...

It's just the start of the winter and I'm all alone and I've got my eye right on you give me a coin and I'll take you to the moon give me a beer and I'll kiss you so foolishly, like you do when you lie, when you're not in my thoughts, like you do when you lie and I know it's not my imagination
