The river's flowing,
the water's deep,
the water's dark
where angels weep.

The skies are falling...
It's time to leave,
But don't you ever say goodbye.

The whip's back lashing,
and planes are crashing...
the water's dark...
the water's deep...

The skies are falling...
it's time to leave...
But don't you ever say goodbye.

And then we crash into the sun
with so much left undone.
We're leaving now...
...Misanthropolis.

A life's a gospel...
some girls are soul,
some baby's blues,
mine's rock'n'roll.

But we're all falling,
it's time to leave...
But we will never say goodbye.

And on four horses,
come special forces.
the water's dark...
the water's deep...

Cause we're all falling,
and it's time to leave...
But we will never ever say goodbye.

And then we crash into the sun
with so much left undone.
We're leaving now...
...Misantropolis.

And if I would dare to tell the truth,
nothing would stay the same.
Now love me or leave me,
but this has to come to an end...
...soon.

And then we crash into the sun
with so much left undone.
We're leaving now...
...Misantropolis.
yeah
We're leaving now...
...Misantropolis.
yeah
We're leaving now...
...Misantropolis.
