I heard what you said
I heard what you said
I heard what you said
I heard what you said

It came to me in my dreams
Nothing I wanted to believe
But I couldn't help feeling this way
About what I had found out

I heard what you really thinkin
I heard what's in your head
Why did you keep it all from me
Now you can't take it back

So tell me all the thoughts in your head
I promise I won't get upset
If you'd just say the truth to me
I wouldn't give it another thought
I wouldn't care about what you said to me

I heard what you said
I heard what you said
I heard what you said
I heard what you said

Learning about how a person really feels
Can damage the soul till it's broken
I don't know what I can do now
To ease the pain within my whole

Maybe you can piece it all back again
If you'd just admit to all that you've said
Cause you know that we can never go back
And you know you can't take it back

So tell me all the thoughts in your head
I promise I won't get upset
If you'd just say the truth to me
I wouldn't give it another thought
I wouldn't care about what you said to me

And I wouldn't figure all the lies you've told
Would amount to anything at all
If you'd just say the truth to me
I wouldn't give it another thought
I wouldn't give a damn about what you said to me

So open up
We know it's all in the open now
So let it go
We know you can't do anything to stop
What's going on
And all that we have been through

You know full well
That you can't take it back
You can't change the past
No matter what you do
