She was heaven when I met her
But she was hell when I came asking for more
I'd say my clothes just keeps me warmer than you babe
And I fell shaking on the floor

'Cause I've never met a girl like that
'Cause I've never loved a girl like that
Makes your life shine so bright and clear
But I wish i never held her dear
Never held her dear

I saw her eyes in burning water
I saw face turning streets alive
I couldn't see her as a stranger for nothing
But i can't hold her as a friend

Have you ever loved a girl like that?
Have you ever held a girl like that?
Makes your life shine so bright and clear
But you wish you never held her dear
Never held her dear
