Six feet under
No longer alive
This is your destiny
'Cause I have arrived

I am not a nightmare
I am disease
And I'll bring society
To its knees

Murder the world
Murder the world
Murder the world
I was born to murder the world

The fools and the innocent
They're all the same
To me, I thrive on
Pleasure and pain

It's not war of attrition
I never lose the games
Feel the grand invasion
Feasting in the veins

I was born to murder the world
I was born to murder the world
I was born to murder the world
I was born to murder the world

Your strength devoured
Just wither away
'Til the final hour

The battle is won
March to the beat
I am the plague, invincible
That you can't defeat

I was born to murder the world
I was born to murder the world
I was born to murder the world

I was born to murder

I was born to murder the world

I was born to murder the world

I was born to murder the world

I was born to murder the world
