In the break of the morning, coming in with no warning
Striking from up high
Like the size of a city comes this mountain of stone
From a different sky

There was a torturous vision of a deadly collision
We watched in agony
An inconceivable terror, a celestial invader
Innocent casualties

Burning fire, screams of pain and fear
Piercing higher, hell on earth is here
Mankind is melting, life just drains away
Darkness, death, this is the blackest day

Obliteration, disintegration, it's all turning to dust
From the force of the impact, humanity beginning to rust
The world begins to crumble, it's all just a matter of time
This is the ultimate chaos, this is the end of the line

Burning fire, screams of pain and fear
Piercing higher, hell on earth is here
Mankind is melting, life just drains away
Darkness, death, this is the blackest day

[Incomprehensible]
Yeah, oh yeah, oh yeah
Blackest day

In the break of the morning
Striking from up high
This is the ultimate chaos
This is the end

Burning fire, screams of pain and fear
Piercing higher, hell on earth is here
Mankind is melting, life just drains away
Darkness, death, this is the blackest day

[Incomprehensible]
