The seeds of my life have been planted
Buried deep within
My veins are like the deepest roots
My darkest sins

All my thoughts are cast in stone
A castle I have built
Its walls have just begun to crack
I am full of guilt

Over and over, the nightmare never ends
I have been ripped, I have been torn
Over and under, to hell and back again
The demon deep inside reborn, yeah

The time has come for me
To conquer everlasting rage
To free me from my suffering
Break me from my cage

Over and over, the nightmare never ends
I have been ripped, I have been torn
Over and under, to hell and back again
The demon deep inside reborn, reborn

I have searched deep within
Down in my soul
I have found myself, myself
I have found

A restitution for my sins
This castle I've rebuilt
The walls are now unshakable
I am free of guilt

Over and over, the nightmare never ends
I have been ripped, I have been torn
Over and under, to hell and back again
The demon deep inside reborn

Over and over, the nightmare never ends
I have been ripped, I have been torn

Over and under, to hell and back again
The demon deep inside reborn
The demon deep inside reborn
