Turn down the headlights and look my way We'll tell our parents the best of things no matter how awful they seem
The sickness of a family Trace your eyes, wake and retrieve
The morning sun can look so mean - the color Kiss your head don't say a thing We'll live forever in books darling

It's the secrets beneath the leaves I keep with me. I'm falling up and down

And I'll never write the letter, I wish you could read the words perfectly

And I'll never write the letter, I wish you could read the
words perfectly
