"What Happens?"

you're walking in the night - you walk alone the shadows whisper your name... a stranger beckons you, like none you've seen you can't ignore his request as he whispers, "come to me..."

i want to show you what happens when we die... you take a chance and then it's too late when you realize i want to show you what happens when i want to show you what's happening
i want to show you what happens when we die time has come to see beyond now - reach out take my hand something inside beckons you... a shiver takes you - delicious thrill tonight's our destiny, so come and let it be fulfilled
