You should be that sound, don't ya speak that name
You better turn around/ and begin again Righteous the river flow/ you cannot go against Don't you trust in those, who would speak that name
My life's an open book, want you to reason it Watch who you call upon, survivals not a game

Speak of the devil and he will appear Speak only truth and let your words be clear- so you hear
Declare the truth in prayers you speak
To defeat all those who seek to rule with fire and fear
x 2

Don't sleep for wolves are near
You got to keep your eyes open in this atmosphere So don't you hold on to old lies that have lost their rhyme
Keep the words that still guide you Watch who you speak them to Don't come seeking sympathy You'll have to answer for things you have been promoting You'll find that none of the laws you wrote to fight the "immoral"
Can be call natural- we oppose your guidance

You speak in parables but fighting for your devilish
dreams
Reciting words to deceive- a lonely soul you'll be
Speak of the devil and he will appear
hear
Declare the truth in prayers you speak
x 2

Speak words you want to believe Don't forget that in time they will Fulfill their prophecy
You betray your own faith so they hear you

Don't believe the sounds you hear Or how they justify proof they try to engineer Meditate on the crimes that lie in plain sight Feel the earth move and cry out Don't blind yourself to the truth
Don't claim you're not a part of it
You can't just shut your eyes to the world you're living in Remember it first starts with a spark to spread some light
Now these words will ignite fires to bless the chosen few
You speak in parables but fighting for your devilish
dreams
Reciting words to deceive- a lonely soul you'll be
Speak of the devil and he will appear
hear
Declare the proof in prayers you speak
x 2
