I, I went down walking
The sky was bright
Red flowers blooming
The sky was bright, so bright

And I could hear that rock 'n' roll
Coming out your radio, that's right

I, I went down walking
The sun was hot, so hot
The streets were melt, melt, melting
The sun was hot, so hot

And I could feel the rock 'n' roll
Coming out your front window
Yeah, I was look, look, looking for you

I, I went down walking
The wind's so cold
The leaves build my path
The wind grew cold

I was taken by the light
That had fell on such a sight
Uh huh, yeah, that's right
Over and over and over and over again

I, I went down walking
The snow made angels on the ground
Icicles hang, hang, hanging
The snow made angels all around

And I stumbled through the snow
On the way to your front door
I felt the earth beneath my feet
Push, push, push, pushing me
And all that I could see were lights
Falling all around me

I was look, look, looking for you
I was look, look, looking for you
I was look, look, looking for you

I was look, look, looking for you

I was look, look, looking for you

I was look, look, looking for you

I was look, look, looking for you

I was look, look, looking for you
