When I was young I used to sleep out in the garden,
Wait to sneak in when the house grew quiet.
Now that I'm grown I can't seem to find you there.
There is no tall, tall grass for me to hide in.

When there wasn't anywhere for me to go,
Oh, I stumbled into deep love with your rock and roll.
When there wasn't anywhere for me to go,
Oh, I stumbled into deep love with your rock and roll.

I can't believe that we were ever friends at all.
I didn't see it. Can you forgive me?
I've been scared to say I lined them up to fall,
And I want to change.

When there wasn't anywhere for me to go,
Oh, I stumbled into deep love with your rock and roll.
When there wasn't anywhere for me to go,
Oh, I stumbled into deep love with your rock and roll.
When there wasn't anywhere for me to go,
Oh, I stumbled into deep love with your rock and roll.
When there wasn't anywhere for me to go,
Oh, I stumbled into deep love with your rock and roll.
When there wasn't anywhere for me to go,
Oh, I stumbled into deep love with your rock and roll.

The world outside seems to be glowing
Like a heart beating. The snow will cover everything
