You thought that you could never love again, but then I opened your = heart, abusive man he terrorized I've seen the hardness in your eyes, = your trust has been ripped apart, beaten down with no defense, another =
bad experience, could you just give me a chance?
'Cause he is only one = bad seed, in all our humanity... Don't let him block our romance, he = created walls made of mistrust, if you let us we'll crush them into = dust, leave his image to die in the past, so you can love at last. Your = face is etched the strain, from long years of constant pain, let my love =
wash all those scars away, and find a new love today.
