When I sing I can bring everything on the wing
Flying down from dizzy air
To the ground because i care
You will be love
And your love will live

I smile, I beguile
All the while, every mile
As I walk across the sky
Of the clockwork
Of your eye
You will be love
And your love will live

Casting spells from a well
I can tell you love bells
Listen to my magic voice
Learn the tunes of childrens toys
You will be love
And your love will live

When I die do not cry
Hear my sigh passing by
After I have turned into wind
I will try to help you then
You will be love
And your love will live
