John Frank
"Never Surrender"

Visit "Never Surrender" on MotoLyrics.com

She's thinking it over
And my life passed before her feet
She dances where angels fall

And her future she's writing
But in my past I'm hiding out
There's no words; I've said it all

But there ain't no use to be deceiving
She won't believe me anyway
Sometimes it's easy to remember
You never surrender
I know
And I don't want to be the one
Staring at the loaded gun
As it's trembling in her hands
Since the day that she's been born
If I'm running out of time
I don't want to find out yet
And lately I don't understand
Who the hell she thinks I am
Treating me like I'm a goddamn superman
If I'm running out of time
I don't want to find out yet

Well the tables are turning
And her blue eyes are burning me
The new hole to see myself

And the night lights around me
As I walk these crowded streets
I realize there's no one else
No there's no one else
No one else

But sometimes I lie there and I wonder
If she makes it thunder when it rains
And sometimes it's easy to remember
You never surrender
And I know
I don't want to be the one

Staring at the loaded gun
As it's trembling in her hands
Since the day that she's been born
If I'm running out of time
I don't want to find out yet
And lately I don't understand
Who the hell she thinks I am
Treating me like I'm a goddamn superman
If I'm running out of time
I don't want to find out yet

But there ain't no use to be deceiving
She won't believe me anyway
And sometimes it's easy to remember
You never surrender
I don't want to be the one
Staring at the loaded gun
As it's trembling in her hands
Since the day that she's been born
If I'm running out of time
I don't want to find out yet
And lately I don't understand
Who the hell she thinks I am
Treating me like I'm a goddamn superman
If I'm running out of time
I don't want to find out yet

'Cause you never surrender
I know