The sun is shining but my heart is breaking
There is a lot of miles between us
You know you said that everything would work out in the end
But the years go by and I keep thinking that one day it will come good
But it doesn't matter what I think cos there ain't no sign of you

Oh there's empty promises litter every place I visited I've got say this ain't the want I wanted it to be
For the sun is shining but my heart is breaking I'm trying to stand with dignity and not to let you know all the damage that you've done to me

Well the sun is shining but my heart is breaking
There is no easy way out
Oh you say what you believe but it doesn't make things right
Oh the sun is shining but my heart is breaking
All you do is tell me lies but I listen every time Well my downfall was I could just break away and do things my own way
I kept holding back and listening just incase you turned up
The sun is shining but my heart is breaking
It's just another day
But I'll pretend that I'm alright and walk on all the same
The sun is shining but my heart is breaking
Oh when words fail there is nothing worse
What can I do but to keep on walking by?

Well the sun is shining but my heart is breaking Oh goodbye you came too late
You don't matter now
After all it's all the same
The sun is shining but my heart is breaking Oh misery is all you gave It's all you gave to me
The sun is shining but my heart is breaking
Oh you're no mystery

Bet you do this to every girl you meet
