I really like you but I just don't know where I stand and where to go
I tried to tell but you're hard to read
If you like me could you give me a sign please Some sorta message just to let me know that I'm not just wasting my time

I just don't know what you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me
What you want from me
What you want from me

Let's not make things so complicated
Life is short we should enjoy it
I'm not the wreckless type I just feel I've waited all my life waited for someone like you
I've waited for someone like you
I've waited for someone like you
I've waited for someone like you

I just don't know what you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me
What you want from me

So paint the town red and pull the stops out show me a sign that you want to me mine
So paint the town red, pull the stops out
show me a sign that you want to me mine

I just don't know what you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me
What you want from me
I just don't know what you want from me

I just don't know what you want from me
What you want from me
