If you don't know me by now I guess you don't deserve me
Was the ocean I cried for you not deep enough to satisfy?
Was my sacrifices never enough despite the fact I tore my entire life apart in your name?
And in your name I walked showered by cruelty never raising my hand back for I never wished to harm you
I couldn't if I wanted to

I only walk with love in my heart
There's only love, there's only love in my heart
There's only love, there's only love in my heart
There's only love, there's only love in my heart

Truely sorry that I dared to believe you could love me back
Sorry is all I can say
If it means I'm not an equal than so be it for I refuse to become what I am not

There's only love, there's only love in my heart
There's only love, there's only love in my heart
There's only love , there's only love in my heart
There's only love, there's only love in this heart
There's only love, there's only love in this heart
There's only love, there's only love in my heart
There's only love, there's only love in my heart
There's only love, there's only love in my heart
