It's a whole year later since you broke my heart in two
And I've stood still just waiting here for you
Like the burning London my heart screams for love
Well there ain't no peace here
Hate burns
The burning London my heart screams for love
Like the burning London tumbling down

Well you made your mind up but you change so easily
You're not sure of what you want so choose to destroy any trace of love
To burn that burn that bridge I guess
Well you have burned that bridge

Like the burning London my heart screams for love
Like the burning London my heart screams for love

Oh it didn't have to be so
Oh it didn't have to be so

Like the burning London my heart screams for love
Like the burning London my heart comes undone
Oh it didn't need to be like this
Oh it didn't need to be like this
Like the burning London my heart screams for love
Like the burning London my heart screams for love
Oh it didn't have to be like this
Oh it didn't have to be like this
Oh Like London my heart screams for love
Oh Like London my heart screams for love
Oh it didn't have to be like this
