I have been a fool, so unkind, and cruel
I have been open wide but always trying to hide
The truth is you made me feel things I never wanted to feel
Love is such a stranger, it hurts just to think
I don't want to give that much, it's such a risk
But you just look at me and suddenly I melt, I tremble
I don't want to be walking all alone but I have made up my mind, sat on my thrown I'll be the queen of all pain and things most unkind if I don't know your love in my life

Cos I know only you will do
I will walk all alone if I can't have you
Cos I know only you will do
I will walk the world alone if I can't have you

Write it in the sand how sorry I am so the waves can wash it away before you even see Cos I'm so scared to let you know how I really feel it petrifies me

No-one in this world makes me feel the way you do
You make me feel so happy just looking at you
And when I see you hurt I feel it in my heart like a knife

Oh I know only you will do
If I can't have you I will walk this world alone
Oh I know only you will do
If it I can't be with you I will walk this world alone
Oh I shall walk this world all alone
If you don't want me
I will walk alone
I'll walk this world alone
I want to be alone
