I wish you peace in this journey
if you could take a minute to read my sign view the point that I'm making how there is something so very wrong

Just look at the kid on the corner crying
Just look at the pain in that man's eyes Just look at the people out there fighting when there should peace, love, and trust

This is peaceful protest I don't wanna start no war
This is a peaceful protest I just wanna spread the word

This world could be a better place
This world could be a safer place
This world could be a happier place
This world should be a full of love

This is peaceful protest I don't wanna start no war
This is a peaceful protest I just wanna spread the word

This is peaceful protest I don't wanna start no war
This is a peaceful protest I just wanna spread the word
