Haunted both my dreams and my nightmares equally You have torn my life apart for entertainment and nothing more
And she has travelled to my home town just to look me in the eyes
She came all this way just to whisper it has always been you

Oh it always will be
Oh it always will be
Yeah it always will be Yeah it always will be me

And whatever goes on
The road will always lead here
And no matter what lies you tell them
Their paths will always be clear
Cos I know we can't fight this
We can't fight this forever more

Oh it's always been Yeah, Oh yeah, it's always been me
And it will always, always be me
Oh it will always, always be me
