"The Kindest Thing"

I never meant to break your heart if I could I'd pull the pieces together again I never meant to make you see the colder colder side of me

And yet the kindest thing to do would be to walk away and leave but I'm still standing here
Yeah the kindest thing to do would be to set you free
but I'm still standing here

I wish you all happiness in this world
I wish you no regrets or hurt
I'd like to take the pain away
I'd like to change all I've done

Yeah the kindest thing to do would be to walk away but I'm still still loving you Yeah the kindest thing to do would be to set you free but I'm still loving you
