I bought a house, a beautiful house
I painted it the way I wanted it to be I started growing vegetables in the yard just like we had agreed
We would be green

I did everything the way you said u would like it, just for you
But afterall these years the house ain't a home cos you're not here

The only thing missing is you
The only thing missing is you
The only thing missing is you
The only thing missing is you

I took a job to earn money cos at one point I thought you wanted to be well off but as the years went by I realized it's not money that makes people happy
Not in real life
Not in real life

The only thing missing is you
The only thing missing is you
The only thing missing is you
The only thing missing is you
