A letter to your congressman
Can change local ebb and flow,
Or help right wrongs done to folks
That you don't even know.

But who takes complaints
When every day can seem so sad?
Tell me, who do I write to
When things are going bad?

To whom it may concern
I'm sincerely feeling down.
I just hit white water
And I'm afraid I'm gonna drown.

The next moment's like an ocean
Looks like it just might swallow me.
Tell me, who do I write to
When things are bad as they can be?

Dear God, I don't understand
How a man can feel this way.
I'd sure like to tell someone
If I could just think what to say.

The weather changed, my plans fell through
Everything I need is broke.
Who do I write to
When life seems like a joke I didn't get?

My emotions are fragile
I feel like a first class post.
I need delivery from the thing I fear the most.

Just to know somebody's out there
I'd give anything I had.
Tell me, who do I write to
When things are going bad?
