Try to open up
this should be a love song a song for the road
a song to lighten the load

Give 'em some sugar to get it down some sweet nothingness, a kiss don't twist the arms don't pull the legs steal something and say it loud and proud...we're listening

There is a house built with recycled bricks this one is for the future dumb it down and turn it up this is AMERICA
buy out the originals and build museums

They're gonna come for you bearing gifts to comfort you radio say's, "I'll be here for you"

You make friends with liars, why not killers?
Being sentimental, doesn't mean there's no future

But do what you want maybe we'll join you and write a love song
