the moment that i laid my eyes on you i told myself that you're a dream come true i can't believe myself that you're for real or just passin' by would i be livin' in a dream that would sooner say goodbye?

oh you're the one i'm thinking of each passing night and there are times that i think of you til the morning light oh now i know that you're the one for me or just a fantasy there's no better place i wanna be can i hold your hands forever will you be there when the night is over you're the one i've waited for no one else could love you more please tell me it would never pass and something that could ever last i know a lifetime's not too much to ask i found forever when i look into eyes adlib

i found forever when i look into eyes oh oh oh
i found forever when i look into eyes
