Voyeur of life, of love Outside in the rain
And the wind $\frac{1}{2}$ come in

But you wait
Till the stars fall from the sky
You watch
Till the sun burns your eyes

But you wait
Till the stars fall from the sky
You watch
Till the sun burns your eyes

Come into me
you will always always
run, away with me
you will always always
be one, into we
we will always always be the sun, with me
we will always always, be...

fortunate one...
yet how alone we become

when you wait till the stars fall from the sky you watch, till the love burns your eyes

Come into me
run, with me
you will always always
be the sun, yes me
we will always always... be...
Come into me

we will always always be...
