I don't mind if you pry, it's just me It's the one thing I protect so well this is my story

I don't care where you go or who you tell cause it's my life and my lines and have no fear we're not forgotten here

One step to the light to see one foot on the edge that's me one long trail into the night all over this battle field

Sometimes you crawl sometimes you kneel
one long trail into the night
one long trail into the night

What you sell is not who you are it's what you do

Who I am
I protect so well keep away from you

I don't care where you go or who you tell because into the night we go on and on
this is my story
oh this is my story

One step to the light to see
one foot on the edge, that's me
