Say goodbye to the girl with the pale blue eyes is she too tired to see oh no, she's just tired of me

I am in love with the girl of the pale blue eyes is she too blind to see what all this is doing to me

She looks away when she sees me comin I lose my words when I try to speak she won't defend her reasons for runnin she's just tired of being part of this losin streak

Says she's got herself a good new man say's this time she won't tell no lies I can't help but to want to tell him don't believe what it is you see in those eyes

And should those blue eyes see another and should your lips feel his kiss then God just let me shut my eyes to you and help me find a way to get out of this keep me sane while I'm getting out of this then say goodbye to the girl with the pale blue eyes
