No life is done in vain
I came to open the door
But I left the key at home
I locked my car up
With the key in the ignition
It's all these moments that I get in
Put me a little somewhere different
Than I would have been
They leave a little something special
For me to gain
Because I know I miss things
I shouldn't miss
And there are some things you know
You just know that they might
End up this way but that doesn't mean
They're done in vain.
My friends came over,
I leave them to go to the store
I wasted time
Cause they're closed on Sundays
It's all these moments that I get in
Put me a little somewhere different
Than I would have been
They leave a little something special
For me to gain
Because I know I miss things
That I won't get again in my life
And there are some things you know
You just know that they might
End up this way but that doesn't mean
They're done in vain.
They're done in vain, I'll be out of control
I'll never do that again.
I'll be out of control
I know the difference is
But there are some things
I shouldn't miss
And there are some things you know
You just know that they might
End up this way but that doesn't mean
They're done in vain.

And I spend most of my life
Trying to get it all back
Trying not to miss things
That I miss all of the time
No life is done in vain.
