Intro:

I feel lost

Do you ever get that feeling?

It's perpetual for me

It's perpetual for me

I'd die for love

Each time I feel your breath breathing

I try to hold my own

I try to hold my own breath

When you sleep besides me

I count the tiles on the ceiling

122

123

When you sleep besides me

I hear your falling heart crashing

And I try to pick up the debris

I try to pick up the debris

So hear we are

Do you ever get that feeling?

We're just not meant to be (x7)

Set me as a seal on your arm and on your heart

They say that love is strong as death,

And death will do us part

Set me as a seal on your heart and on you arm

They say jealousy is deep as the grave

And that is what it ends on

Chorus:

I hold my breath each time you breathe

I hold my breath each time you breathe

Each time you breathe I die for love

Set me as a seal on your arm and on your heart

They say that no water, wind, or flame

Could tear us apart

Jealousy flashes fast as fire,

Love's cruel, burning pyre

They say no waters

could put out such a flame

No flood could drown it

Chorus:

I hold my breath each time you breathe
I hold my breath each time you breathe
Each time you breathe I die for love

Passion is relentless as the underworld
And lover burning coal
I hold my breath,
Devotion seizes me
And jealousy ripples like a river underneath me

Chorus:

I hold my breath each time you breathe
I hold my breath each time you breathe
Each time you breathe I die for love
I hold my breath each time you breathe(x8)
