Hello, hello, hello again, the strangest feelings touch my heart

It didn't cross my mind we'd meet again, we'd taken roads so far apart, but

Just when we thought it was goodbye

Hello, hello, hello again, the memories drift out of time

The face I used to kiss a million ways, the love I truly thought was mine

I guess we just forgot to talk about it, and so we took the exit sign, but

Just when we thought it was goodbye

(Solo)

Just when we thought it was goodbye

Hello, hello, hello my love again, we make it seem like our first time

I want to stay inside your life again, to fall apart just seems a crime

Just when we thought we'd closed the shutters down

And we had nowhere left to start, but

Just when we thought it was goodbye

Just when, just when, just when we thought it was Just when we thought it was, just when we thought it was goodbye
