

Willows Weeping

"Eternal Flames"

Visit "Eternal Flames" on MotoLyrics.com

I remember sweet Diana
I thought we'd always be a par
I missed the years we had together
I missed the feeling we once shared

I don't believe in eternal flames any more
Now that I learned the rules of the game
What for?
You opened my eyes
You made me realise that
I don't believe in eternal flames any more

With Mary I had something to live for
We used to drink to celebrate
I want things to be like before
Now I drink just to forget
You stole my faith in love when you walked out thru the door
I don't believe in eternal flames any more

Me and Florense talked things over
There was no cloud to hide the sun
But all summers must come to an end
And now our winter has begun

I don't believe in eternal flames any more
Now that I learned the rules of the game
What for?
You opened my eyes
You made me realise that
I don't believe in eternal flames any more
Not any more

Visit Willows Weeping page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.