Forced into my cage
This cage I built for me
I've tried to prove my innocence
But I'll never be set free

I deserve my prison
Carved from all my lies
Locked inside my deceit
And robbed of my disguise

I don't want to be released
From this prison of eternal pain
Even if I were to be let go
It'd never be the same

The cage is made of my guilt
Adding more and more every day
Bolted together by the hurt I cause
So I can never run away
