"Without You"

Visit "Without You" on MotoLyrics.com

You don't know me
Quite like you think you do
Pushing away what you don't want to see
Do you really believe I'm true blue?

You always say that you love me
But I believe there's such thing as too much
Cos I'm the princess of darkness, my sweet
And I destroy everything that I touch

I have hurt you; this I know
Though to me you've firmly denied
So am I the only one who has noticed
The bittersweet tears that you've cried?

You should hate me for who I am
Or at least what i was
A soul without a conscience
A rebel without a cause

But you love me for who I am
Or at least least who I've become
A creature of darkness reaching out
A nobody trying to be someone
