Ce Ce Winans, Keith Crouch, John "Jubu" Smith)

Times are harder now then they've ever been before

(Don't be discouraged)

So much hurt and pain that it seems so hard to bare

(You gotta remember)

Faith is the only thing that you can count on

Stand on His promises that you may be strong

I'm here to let you know

there's always hope for you and me

In spite of what it feels like

Chorus

Well, alright

Keepin' your head up high no matter cause

It's alright

Believing a change gon' come today or even tonight

And He's gonna answer every little prayer

Just hold on, wait and see, you know it's gonna be alright.

Crying all night long feeling like you're so alone

(But don't you worry)

Cause season's have to change

It won't always be this way (so just remember)

Love is the only key that opens every door

Releases everything

All that you need and more

I've got to let you know

there's always hope for you and me

In spite of what it seems like

Repeat Chorus

There's so much life to live for

Joy and happiness in store

There's so much more

you can be

But you gotta ask and you'll receive

Alright, Alright, Alright

Repeat Chorus
