Who's gonna sing the song of change
If no one can imagine life outside the beaten track
And who's gonna stop a running train
If no one cares to dwell or no one wants to look back

Somewhere along the line you gave up askin'
When it got a little too complex
But if you don't question what has been Does it mean that you don't care what's coming next

You got no one to follow
And no one will follow you
Ain't that a relief
That everything and everyone must grow in opposition
To resistance and contradiction
This ain't no time to go to sleep

This ain't no time to go to sleep
This ain't no time to go to sleep
This ain't no time to go to sleep
This ain't no time to go to sleep

So who's gonna sing the song faith
If no one prays for anything that can't be bought and sold
And who's gonna tell the story straight
Does anyone believe there's still a story to be told

Somewhere along the line you just stopped walking
When the undercurrent got too strong
Some day a lonely busker will come knocking
With a soft and long forgotten song

'Cause you got no one to follow
And no one will follow you
Ain't that a relief
That everything and everyone must grow in opposition
To resistance and contradiction
This ain't no time to go to sleep

This ain't no time to go to sleep
This ain't no time to go to sleep

This ain't no time to go to sleep
This ain't no time to go to sleep

This ain't no time to go to sleep
This ain't no time to go to sleep
This ain't no time to go to sleep
Oh, this ain't not time to go to sleep
