(Jeff SilbarSteve Plunkett)
Alarm clock rocks me at five-thirty a.m.
Six-fifteen I'm on the road again
Boss man watchin' every move I make
Too many hours, too little pay
But when I get home at the end of the day
Chorus
You're the livin' I been workin' for
(You're the livin')
Six days a week and sometimes more
(You're the livin')
I know the moment that I walk in the door
You're the livin' I been workin' for
In a castle or a double-wide
You're all I need to be satisfied
When I think about how far we've come
I count my blessings and you're number one
Chorus
Don't need nothin'....but your lovin'
Life don't get no better than this (Instrumental)
That's right!
Too many hours, too little pay
When I get home at the end of the day
Chorus
