And all the towns we built,
We built them so the lions could escape,
So they could roam in houses of their own.

The council wasn't there, just answer phone
The humans disappeared, they left their homes.
So the lions lived alone.

And all the towns we built,
We built them so the lions could escape,
So they could roam in houses of their own.

The council wasn't there, just answer phone
The humans disappeared, they left their homes.
So the lions lived alone.

So the lions lived alone.
