"After The Rain"

We all know that feeling when nothing is going your way, no
I can see that you're on the edge of crying and not at all in the mood to play

You can't sleep at night and you're tired all day long and you are getting numbers but you don't know why

When times are getting rough it all seems very hard the best is yet to come

Do you remember
After the rain
The sun always appears
Do you remember
After the rain
The sun always appears shining on you

Things are going on Outside your door
Don't you know, all your friends are waiting
And you can't hide no more

Stop waisting your time
Get yourself together
The best is yet to come

Do you remember
After the rain
The sun always appears
Do you remember
After the rain
The sun always appears shining on you

So many days
That have gone to waist
Don't you know that the expression on your face Doesn't suit you at all

Do you remember
After the rain
The sun always appears
Do you remember
After the rain
It will shine on you
Do you remember
After the rain
The sun always appears
Do you remember
After the rain
The sun always appears shining on you
