What shines when the eyes are dull
What folds in when the hinge is gone
The moth is dead without the dust
I'm dead without a fuss

All I know is you
No I can't change
All I know is you
No I can't change

Below the shelf it's a happy home
And all your neighbors they love each other
And your friends are having so much fun
They're baking cakes and swapping numbers

All I know is you
No I can't change
All I know is you
No I can't change

The slightest weight upsets the scale
Simple words are turning vague
We're twinned but put against
One shape under the magnifying glass
Please no ad-lib, the world is cruel
And outside's licking lips
All I know let's shed the myth
Let's cut out this bit and this bit
