Intro: Guru

doing it in the house like this going out to the lost souls doing this for you and yours comin' straight to you from the Guru and the crew

Chorus: Guru

to the lost souls
I hope you find your way someday
that's why I sit and I pray for the lost souls
that's why I sit and I pray

Verse 1: Guru

sometimes I wonder why some people can't see what's beyond the naked eye so therefore I must fortify techniques of communication for beyond what is considered to be normal conversation so I need some proper 'ticipation am I giving what you need yes true indeed
as greed grows like weed many bad seeds start to contaminate the crop I think that needs to stop hops brothers are slain over respect and clout while thier mothers're trying to figure out what's it all about but when you give up on self that's when you lost cause you're playing with your life like it's a coin toss

Chorus

no doubt I release a form of speech relative to urban outreach transmitted messages to each true listener rhymes divine but rough like the skin on blisters cause the truth hurts plus I got no time for runnin' around chasin' skirts so see my sound is a corrector a profound lecture
quality texture that's because of what I see alot of mc's are gassed like helium word up g alot of people in general are straight up no good makes me wanna shoot 'em aiyo maybe I should but instead I parlay maintain self control
and say a prayer for the lost souls

Chorus

get up stand up
come on stand up for your right one two
I go to new heights with my insight whipping my mic tight with the height of a scholar equipped with the gift to make crazy dollars but that ain't the whole see my heart is in it that's the only way one could even attempt to win it dj spin it while others critique but the science makes 'em weak check the words that I speak see it's ridiculous for us not to discuss the real issues
like all you phonys
and why I dis you
dismiss you as a lost soul

Chorus

Outro: Jason Kay of Jamiroquai/Guru

if you don't watch where you step you can become indirect and you know that you will lose your soul and if you truly want to lose until there's nothing to choose

to the lost soul
so I sit and I pray for the lost soul

lose it
you can lose your soul

hope you find your way
